

Brunch & Brainstorm

BUILDING CAPACITY TO COMBAT LABOR TRAFFICKING

11.21.24 Takeaways

Enjoyed November's session? Or maybe you missed it? Sign up for December's Brunch & Brainstorm NOW! We will be discussing the OVC human trafficking grantee expectation of providing labor trafficking training to all staff.

Scan
Here!

Agency Spotlight

Thank you to SETTA for sharing about their work and for leading the discussion on incorporating labor trafficking survivor voice into service design. You can get on SETTA's listserv here, and contact them at survivorengagementtta@icf.com.

Incorporating Labor Trafficking Survivor Voice into Service Design

A Great First Step:

Engaging with and working with organizations who support survivor leadership and survivor voice! You do not have to jump straight to consultants or advisory boards.

The National Survivor Network's
'Meaningful Engagement of People with Lived Experience Toolkit'

Survivor Engagement Resources from Survivor Alliance

More Resources!

U.S. Advisory Council on Human Trafficking's website with information and reports

The National Survivor Network's resources page

SETTA is here to help! They believe in:

- Normalizing slowing down, collectively
- A thoughtful and intentional survivor voice incorporation process
- Learning AND unlearning
- Meeting grantees where they are at - even if they are already at capacity